The Grays' Anniversay.

The Calico ball given by the Prescett Grays last evening in celebration of the cood anniversary of their organization, was largely attended by the Grays and their triends. The Grays appeared in their uniforms, while quite a number of their brother soldiers of the Rfis were also present in unitorm. The ball was very beautifully decerated, being draped with national fires along its length on one side and on both ends. In the center of the north a de of the building was a life-rase picture of General Grant on horseback, paieted by Mr. Hartman, a member of the company. The music was furnished by Professors Thomas, Martin and Elmore, volve the core-trating portion of the and was par excellence. The various committees showed a marked gral in the performance of their various duties, the arangements being as nearly perfect as possible, while every attention possible for the entertainment of their friends was given to those present. At a special meeting of the Toughs hose company, held at their bose bouse last night, it was unanimously decided to immediately build an addition to their quarters, 14 by 14 feet, to be used as a reading and club room for the use of the members of the Company. The addition will be built from the proceeds of the monthly dues received from members, and will be in the rear of their bose bouse, on Montezuma street, near the Cob Web Hall. The tund received from the procoads of he ball, on the 221 of February, will be applied to the purchase of uni forms for the members of the Company. The Toughs claim that they are a permanent institution of the town, being or anized to "stay," and their action will certainly warrant the assertion.

Judge Sulirk's Court,

Ex Surrogate Zulick, of New Jersey, chief executive of Arizona, donred his judirial e mine this morning at ten o'clock to sit as a tribunal to hear the case against the mane asylum directors, in which he apream in the dual role of prosecuting witness and judge. Director Lincoln and Heich were present in person and were also represented by their attorneys, Judge Ed wards and J. C. Herndon. The complainant and judge was represented by counsel, A. C. Baker, of Paenix. A demurrer was entered by Judge Elwards on behalf of the directors, and was exhau-tively and elequently argued by him, when as adpurament was had until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The argument of Judge Elwards was a masterly effort and showed that be fully understood the law bearing on the same. It was replete with sound logic and consisted of a thorough review of the authorities touching the subject. His argument lasted nearly two hours, and was corfised to two propositions, namely First-Has the Governor, under the Organic Act of this Territory, any judicial power, and can be perform the functions of a trial judge and by a decree remove the respondents from a responsible office of trust? Second-Can the Governor in any case, where the tenure of office is fixed by law, remove the incumbent therefrom before the expiration of his term?

He reviewed the common law of Engand and cited many authorities showing assembled at the residence of Hon. T. These lists are arranged at 7-11-15 cts yer pound. by States and Territories, and thereunder by counties and districts. It also gives instructions for the restoration of lost and obliterated corners of the public surveys. This publication is an added evidence of Mr. Copp's industry, and will, no doubt, be in every mine owner's library. In it we observe the names of many of our wealthy | $6 48. and enterprising citizens. Parties contemplating the purchase of a mine can now readily determine if it has been patented. The purchase of unpatented mines is a risky business, as law suits are frequently parchased at the same time. The book sells for fifty cents, and can be had through the newsdealers and of the publisher,
